Friday 16th October

Dear Parents/Carers,

We are always looking for new ways to support your children with their learning. We have discovered a new website called Numbots. This is an interactive site that the children can use independently and will support them in basic number skills. The children have to choose their own robot avatar and earn coins that they can then spend in the 'custom shack' to buy accessories for their robot. To earn their coins there are lots of activities that encourage them to develop their number recognition skills and calculations skills.

Your child will be given their own username and password to login to the site. You can download the app or log on using the internet. In Year Two, these details will be sent home with your child today. For the Year One children, you will receive their username and password via School Spider.

We hope that the children enjoy using this site to develop their skills.

Thank you for your continued support

Yours faithfully

J. Evans
